

ABSL on its pioneering Swindon-based plant: "This is much harder than you realise" EWB steps inside the pioneering gasification plant to see how ABSL will finally turn waste into energy, fuel, and products

In January this year ABSL, who are a developer and producer of advanced waste-derived biofuels, announced successful first production from the 22 GWh waste-to-syngas line at its demonstration ...

Tackling the energy transition ABSL's RadGas technology is used within its plant in Swindon, which is the first facility in the world designed to convert household waste into grid quality ...

The Swindon Plant is the first facility in the world to convert household waste into grid-quality biomethane. ABSL is the owner, developer and technical lead for the project.

Dozens of people at a Swindon firm have been unexpectedly put on leave. The Adver understands that around 50 employees at Advanced Biofuel Solutions Ltd have been placed on ...

(Advanced Biofuel Solutions Ltd.) Advanced Biofuel Solutions Ltd (ABSL), a proven developer and producer of advanced waste-derived biofuels, announces successful first production ...

In the UK, Advanced Biofuel Solutions Ltd (ABSL), a developer and producer of advanced waste-derived biofuels, has announced the successful first production from the 22 GWh ...

ABSL are in the process of bringing a demonstration plant at Swindon into operation. The plant will convert one tonne per hour of household waste into 3MW of biomethane, enough to heat...

Web: <https://scmindustries.co.za>