

BPA approved a $700 million project proposal to increase the output of the Columbia Generation Station nuclear facility. Upgrading an existing resource to provide additional reliable ...

On May 20, BPA approved the implementation of an Extended Power Uprate project that increases the output of Columbia Generating Station. The EPU is an approximately USD 700M ...

The Bonneville Power Administration (BPA) has approved implementation of an Extended Power Uprate (EPU) project that increases the output of Columbia Generating Station ...

According to an Energy Northwest release, BPA recently approved a $700 million Extended Power Uprate (EPU) project for the Columbia Generating Station near Richland, increasing its output by 162 ...

Columbia Generating Station is a nuclear commercial energy facility located on the Hanford Site, 10 miles (16 km) north of Richland, Washington. It is owned and operated by Energy Northwest, a ...

Plans are in place to increase the power of the Northwest's only commercial nuclear power plant, the Columbia Generating Station in Eastern Washington, to boost electrical output by ...

The Bonneville Power Administration (BPA) announced on 20 May that it has given Energy Northwest the go-ahead for the Extended Power Uprate (EPU) at its Columbia Generating ...

The only commercial nuclear power plant in the U.S. Pacific Northwest is set for a $700-million upgrade that would add nearly 200 MW of generation capacity.

Columbia Generating Station is the Northwest's only commercial nuclear energy facility, providing reliable, 24/7 carbon-free electricity to over a million homes. Learn about this vital baseload power ...

RICHLAND, Wash. - The Columbia Generating Station successfully rejoined the Northwest power grid on June 16 at 5:02 p.m. following its biennial refueling outage, Energy ...

Web: <https://scindustries.co.za>